Description

The Arcade lighting collection brings together two seemingly opposing worlds. On one hand, it draws inspiration from simple electrical cables with exposed light sources, whose natural sag creates a spontaneous line in space. On the other, it references the expressive aesthetic of classic chandeliers, long regarded as symbols of ceremonial and representative lighting. Arcade merges these contrasting approaches within a single lighting concept. Graceful arcs of synthetic silk cord span the space like arcades, carrying cylindrical glass elements with softly diffused light. The apparent levitation of the light sources creates a tension between technical simplicity and decorative elegance, lending the collection a distinctive lightness and a subtle sense of play. Arcade works both as individual lighting objects and as larger compositions with multiple glass elements, forming a contemporary interpretation of the chandelier. The adjustable suspension and the rhythm of the cable arcs give rise to dynamic lighting compositions, well suited to private interiors as well as hotel, restaurant, and public spaces.
